Aromas To Honor Its Youth

The evening of February 10th will be a big night for Aromas boys and girls and their friends, which we hope includes everybody.

We have in our Town SIX Boy and Girl Scout, Brownie and Cub Troops. Fifteen dedicated leaders, and at least eighteen active Troop committee members. They will all take a bow and receive YOUR thanks and appreciation on youth nite, February 10th at the school cafeteria.

Festivities start at 6:45 with a Pot Luck Supper. Parents and friends please bring sufficient food for your small fry, and yourselves. After supper, the Scout Troops will present a program showing their work and their fun.

The Troop committees are in charge of arrangements and are as follows:

Table setting and decorations committee members of Troop 17 are Mrs. James Meyers, Helen Taylor, and Celia Roberts.

Receiving and serving food for Troop 10 committee members are Mrs. Lucille Smith, Helen Webb, and Lois Williamson. Clearing tables and cleaning dining room: committee members for Troop 31, Mrs. Clinesmith, Mrs. Blanton, and Mrs. Wayne Malone.

Making and pouring coffee: BOY SCOUTS Troop Committee, Ray Webb, W. Reed.

Washing dishes and cleaning kitchen: Girl Scouts and Cubs Troop Committees, Myrna Totten, Bertha Armor, Inez Marshall, Mrs. Hashimoto.

Encourage and support our Youth. COME TO THEIR DINNER.

No business meeting will be held.

Flame's Whist Party

A public whist card party is held on the first Thursday of each month by the Aromas Flames, at the school. Playing starts at 8:15 and proceeds are used to augment the funds of the Volunteer Fire Department. A door prize is given each night as well as a large array of miscellaneous prizes. Home made refreshments are served and a raffle of delicious home made cakes is held at every party.

A way to support your fire department and spend a pleasant evening as well!

These Times—Mother: "Isn't this toy too complicated for a small child?"

Clerk: "It's an educational toy, madam, designed to help the child adjust himself to the world of today. Any way he puts it together is wrong."

"Pantry Shelf Meals"

To be topic of Home Extension Group. February 9 at 10 a.m., Fellowship Hall. Project Leaders—Lucile Smith, and Doris Hitchings.

Bring scrap material for Doll's Wardrobe. A wardrobe will be made for a doll to be raffled off. The proceeds to go to the Home Extension treasury. These meetings are always instructive and interesting. Come and bring the Children—a baby sitter is provided.

Aromas Garden Club To Make Tour

Members of the Aromas Garden Club have a treat in store this month when they will journey possibly in a chartered bus, to tour the leading nurseries of San Jose.

Committees on arrangements were appointed at the January meeting and plans are under way to make this a most rewarding trip.

Notice To Ex-Aromans

You have always responded with such enthusiasm that we were disappointed to have had NO RESPONSE from ANY of you—concerning our request for news of you for our next Booster. We want to dedicate the March issue almost entirely to YOU. We can't do it unless you write before MARCH 25th. So GET BUSY and send us a short note telling us about yourselves.

WE DO MEAN YOU!

The Almond Trees

The contract for improvement and widening on the Riverside road was let to Granite Construction Co.

Time and progress changes the landscape and many old land marks that we see and take for granted will go.

The row of old almond trees on the Walter Smith place planted in 1904 are beginning to show their first blooms of the season.

The widening of the road may take these and another remnant of the past will be gone, but a more modern road will take their place in progress for the future.

Editorial

I should like to unburden my heart this month and I hope everyone in Aromas will read this editorial clear through.

First: The people of Aromsa must understand and accept the fact that the so called "Aromas Improvement Association" is NOT an organization or even an association. It has no by-laws, no constitution, no charter, and . . .

Second: It was organized so that ALL of the people of Aromas might have a voice in affairs concerning ALL of Aromas.

Third: All of the fine organizations in Aromas were formed for SPECIFIC purposes and only had jurisdiction over these SPECIFIC things.

Fourth: A need had long been felt for a gathering where the people's voice might be heard on affairs of GENERAL concern to all.

Fifth: Every resident in the Aromas Joint School district has a right to attend those meetings and to voice his opinion.

Sixth: The dollar membership fee is NOT required of Aromas Residents before they can vote in a meeting. YOUR VOTE IS HONORED IF YOU LIVE IN THE AROMAS JOINT SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Seventh: The "Aromas Improvement Association" is the People of Aromas.

If you don't like what is being done, or feel that NOTHING is being done, and do not attend the meetings or do your part, THEN YOU HAVE NO ONE TO BLAME BUT YOURSELF.

THOSE WHO ARE CARRYING THE LOAD GET LOTS OF CRITICISM BUT NOT MUCH HELP!

If Aromas residents will stop to think, most will realize that we have gained much in community pride and in oneness of spirit since we can come together to get action on needed community projects and since we have a TOWN PAPER to publicize community advances and affairs.

However, real, effective accomplishment is thwarted by the fact that the majority of the people think that the "association" is a small group trying to "run the town," and, naturally, resenting same.

So, again, the Aromas Improvement Association IS ALL of the people living in Aromas and when ALL individuals and organized groups join together to accomplish things for AROMAS as a whole, we will meet with real success.

Don't Fence Me In?

WHILE Mrs. Scurich is singing "Don't Fence Me In" by taking out the old fence and replacing it with a rose hedge, (looks nice too) the Owen Flys have enclosed their back yard with a high board fence, giving them privacy for out-of-door living.

Mrs. Walcott has made a big improvement with her new corral fence. Her property is gradually taking on character and has possibilities of being one of the best looking places in Aromas.

Never saw one lone woman who could do so many things so well.

The Ray Schuylers have built a new high fence as a background for their out-of-door living area and is an attractive addition.

Weather Report

By Arthur S. Greathead, Farm Advisor

It looks like the weatherman is finally cooperating with us again. December was one of the driest months on record. However, in consulting the last 50 years rainfall records I find that periodically we have had dry Decembers—even dryer than this one. In December of 1874 and 1876 no measurable amount of rainfall was recorded at Salinas.

Wet years will be here again.

Charles Stevens tells me that he was able to sell all of the marketable Christmas trees which he had this year simply by placing a small ad in the newspaper. Apparently, the appeal of a fresh cut Christmas tree is enough to induce people to drive miles in order to get one.

Nat Crouch in the Prunedale area tells me the same thing. I was on his place a few days before Christmas and there were people coming and going constantly.

Recipe of the Month

(One of Tiny Cook's Favorites—Why don't you send in yours?)

FIESTA TAMALE PIE

6 Tablespoons butter or oil.
2 large onions minced.
1 clove garlic minced.
1 lb. ground beef.
½ lb. sausage.
1 (No. 2½) can of tomato or 1 quart.
1 (No. 2 can) whole kernel corn.
2 teaspoons salt.
2 teaspoons chili powder.
1 can ripe olives.
½ cup minced parsley.
2 cups corn meal.
1 cup milk.
2 eggs well beaten.
1½ cups grated cheese.

Heat the oil or butter in large frying pan and saute garlic, onions, parsley, until golden brown. Add beef and sausage, and brown. Add tomatoes, chili powder and seasoning and let simmer.

Pour 2 cups of hot water and milk over the 2 cups of corn meal to make thick mush and stir in the well beaten eggs. Spoon half of mush in a 12x14 inch baking pan. Add the meat filling. Over the top of filling pour the corn and half of the olives.

Spread remainder of corn meal mush over the top and press in remaining olives, and sprinkle the grated cheese. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serves 8 to 10 people.

Who's New In Aromas

Viola Herrlich

We want to welcome EARL and JUANITA DODSON of Carr Avenue and congratulate them on selecting AROMAS as their home. They came here from Watsonville. Their house was converted from a dairy barn to a charming modern home.

EARL works at Favorite Market in Salinas. JUANITA had infantile paralysis as a child. She gets round on crutches, drives a car and holds down a full time job. She keeps the books for Moderne Cinderella Shoppe and California Freezing and Cold Storage.

Their home is their hobby. Building is a new venture for Earl but he is learning fast. They built a mushroom house this year and are adding a utility room to the house. We marvel at the help Juanita gives her husband. They have all kinds of plans for the future inside and out. The next project is the yard. Earl plans to build a retaining wall, paths and plant shrubs with later on an inclosed patio and barbecue pit. Watch the paint fly this summer. Juanita likes to crochet, knit and make her own clothes.

Son Alvin Banta is in Service. He is a Corporal in the Marines, at present stationed in Hawaii. Wish his Mom could go over for a trip like I did last year.

Leaders Attend Council Meeting

Henry Fukuba, P.T.A. President, sponsors of the Boy Scouts, and Harvey Rassmusson, Scout Master attended the Monterey Bay Area Council meeting in Santa Cruz.

This was an inspirational meeting to get more public interest in youth activities and Scouting.

Outside of Your Home

We are still keeping a weather eye out for our Paul's scarlet roses. No pruning this year. Nor fertilizer yet. If they were not planted in sunny spots it is not too late to carefully lift the plant and place in full sun in a new location.

Many nurseries have year old perennials in stock now. If planted now they will bloom in season.

Some to ask for are: Sweet Williams, Statice, Phlox, Michielmas Daisies, Dusty Miller, Yellow Matricaria, Cannas, etc.

Pruning and spraying is still a chore in many gardens. It will soon be too late, so hasten to this necessary work. This is an ideal time to take out shrubs and plants that do nothing for the yard. Work up the earth and select new and better varieties. Be sure to get instruction from your nursery man on the location to plant and the soil requirements.

Do not over plant, give the plants air and earth enough to grow properly. In the areas where water is a problem, plant front lawn areas to Algerian Joy. This group grows fast and can be pruned easily. In rear lawn areas use gravel for neat look. Border the gravel with purple alysium for now, then for back ground a border of petunias will last all summer. If plants get too leggy pinch ends of branches back. A lot of color from minimum moisture with these plants.

Let's keep up the good work by fixing up mail boxes and numbering and naming them. This is a definite perk up for our homes and ranches.

Good luck in all your gardens and special greetings to our Junior Garden Club.

Aromas

Nestled in among the Hills,
Covered with poppies and Lupins Blue.
Lies the small town of Aromas—
Home for me and you.
Some folks might call it a quaint little town,
And wonder why we love it so;
It's such a small little town they say,
And it doesn't seem to grow!
We know our homes aren't castles,
And maybe not the BEST!
But the friendliness of our neighbors
Make up for all the rest.
Oh, yes, sometimes we chew the rag
And argue and disagree.
But shucks! it never means very much
Just between YOU and ME.
But let sorrow or trouble strike one of our Band
And then you'll know and understand
Why we all say Aromas
Is the Biggest Little Town in the Land!

The Aromas Home of the Month

Some time ago, with John's cousin in Sebastopol we were discussing our ancestry (with emphasis, of course, on aristocratic antecedents), when Ernest commented: "Don't forget that one of 'em was hanged as a Highwayman" and thus, pricked our balloon! Now, "Chadwell" has English roots. Just outside London is Chadwell Heath, where, most probably, there were once robbers. There is also a St. Chad. So . . . our Mr. Chadwell's forbears may have flown here—or ran. Fascinating, isn't it, the study of origins?

Mrs. Chadwell's family came from Germany, so I have nothing on them! What a delightful home is tucked away in the fruitful Chittenden Valley. The house, just back from the road, has orchards both sides and back. Mostly apples. There were once a good many apricots, but, as these die, they are replaced by apples. Joy of joys—there is a river running through the land. Bet the children, enjoying it, gave Mother many a fear.

Mr. Chadwell, born in Colorado, was taken to Idaho first and, when 13 years of age, brought to Aromas. At one time. the family farmed the Wiseley Ranch. Hillside farming—in apricots. Gracious—what work-hounds they must all have been! Later, five brothers worked baling hay, but changed to apple growing. By his first marriage, Mr. Chadwell has one son. Our Mrs. Chadwell, the second wife, came from Iowa to visit a relative, met Mr. "C" and decided to stay. About 32 years ago. We are glad she did, for they have one of the nicest families imaginable. Virginia, now 30 years of age, lost her husband in an automobile accident and has had a breakdown, which necessitates a spot of hospitalization now and then. So, her 7 year old son, lives with Auntie Lois (Kellogg) at Martinez. Herbert, ex-Navy graduate of California Polytechnic, is running Peach Tree Ranch at Lonoak, near King City, with two "sidewalk engineers" in the shape of his wife and six months old daughter, Karen. By the way, try to read "East of Eden." This ranch figures therein.

Richard, an ex-Army man, living at New Almaden, and studying Forestry, will soon be Assistant Ranger.

Now, isn't this a good family record? Know any better, round about?

Let's have a look at the house. Built to the owners' design, there is, right side and front, a very wide, high, cement floored porch, with wooden balustrades. We'll go through the front door into the living room. One is struck by the feeling of space

Edna Breslawsky Hosts Garden Club

The newly completed home of Miss Edna Breslawsky was the scene of the January meeting of the Aromas Garden Club. At this especially outstanding meeting, Miss Breslawsky demonstrated flower arranging.

Guests present were President Mrs. Howard Jennings and members of the Garden section of the Watsonville Woman's Club.

Aside from the fine meeting, members were inspired by the beauty and serenity of Miss Breslawsky's home. Everything, from the entrance walk throughout the home was in perfect harmony and added much to make this a specially enjoyable meeting.

What Are We Proud Of?

If every school pupil were to write a theme each year, "Why I Am Proud of My Home Town" or how would you describe it, to strangers, our home town pride would grow. More folks would think up good reasons for it. Pride in the home community enriches patriotism— SO

Prize for Essay

The Aromas Improvement Association will give a prize of $10 for the best essay sent in by students of the eighth grade graduation class of the Aromas School on "Why I Am Proud of My Home Town." This essay will be judged on the basis of ideas expressed, and will be judged by an impartial group of judges from out of town.

What's Doing Along the Sewer Line

Progress is being made toward getting information as to what a sewer system will actually cost the property owners of the Aromas Sanitation district! The office of the County Engineer of Monterey County has been searching for means to cut the cost and they believe they have specifications at hand which will be economical and still meet state health requirements.

Work on preparing plans for bids is now going on and should be ready to submit to contractors in a month or two. When bids are in we will know the true cost of the project.

Property owners will have the opportunity to say whether they want to have the sewer or not after they have been notified of the assessment they will have to pay. All property owners have the right to file a protest with the Board of Supervisors. Should the protests amount to over two per cent of the total assessed value of the sanitation district the Board of Supervisors may call an election to get an expression of opinion.

Whether Aromas has a sewer or not is up to you, the property owners who feel that the project is worth the investment toward a healthful and growing community.

Editorial Nods

To the new "Aromas School Paper." A nice job and a good idea. Turn out lots of budding editors so that the future of the Aromas Booster will be secure. (But quick!)

Also to the School Trustees for the purchase of the new duplicator which makes the printing of the paper possible.

HOME OF THE MONTH

and light. The "run-through" from living room to dining nook right at the back. All sunny and warm. Entering from the North, there is a wide window on this side, but on the east, a deep, open firplace flanked by two high windows. Floor carpet is green. So, with furniture in smoky rose, tapestry, mahogany and leaf green, there is warmth and freshness. The wide arch to the dining room can be closed by glass folding doors. Floor covering here is of grey tile plastic linoleum. Walls pale pink. The east wall is mostly window, draped in flowery cretonne. Opposite, is an unusual white painted sideboard, full of good glass and china. Through, on the right, to a really good kitchen. Sink on east wall and window lit. On both this and the north walls, are good cupboards, the tops of which form an ell shaped work dresser, tiled in pale green with black bordering. On the north side are also high wall cupboards. Cooking stove opposite. From the right here, leads the dining nook. White walled, decorated with bunches of purple grapes—in crochet and green bordered curtains. On the left, is the service porch. Good broom closet and double laundry tubs plus another shallow sink. Thus, anyone coming in from garden work can wash off here without taking dirt through the house.

On the west wall of the dining room is a door. This leads to a lobby. Off this are two bedrooms, each 12 feet by 12 feet. The front is the master room, polished floor with rugs and bird's eye maple furniture. Pretty frilly curtains. A huge clothes closet. Window lit. The back room is very like the front except that here, the rugs have been crochetted or braided by Mrs. Chadwell. Two are blue beauties. (Father, have you missed any jeans lately?).

You'd like the bathroom in the middle. Built-in bath. Outside and floors painted in deep green. Walls a paler shade. All corners are rounded, if you get what I mean. Pretty matching curtains.

The lobby is painted in ice green. Holds another clothes closet, linen cupboard and drawers.

Out back, on the left, is a furnished cabin, once a boy's room. Then comes the garage. Right, tank house. Beautifully cool, always. It holds the deep freeze and Mrs. Chadwell's jams, etc. Above is another spare room—which, I gather, also serves as father's "dog-house."

Driveway and large courtyard are black topped, but two flower beds have been left for Mother's garden. One, full of registered rose trees, the other of tulips. Round the house walls are flower beds, showing off with grape hyacinths, primulas, daphne and yellow Keria. Freesias coming along. On the shady side is the violet bed and one of dahlias. With Toby, a good watchdog and the cat, a good "gopherer", here is a well balanced household.

When we called, Mr. Chadwell was pruning, Mrs. writing to children. The orchard is beautifully kept. I know little about apples beyond eating them, but understand many varieties are grown here. Now, this is not a "fish story." Once, Mr. "C" had over one ton from one tree!! Now, ain't that somethin'?

Mrs. Chadwell is an active member of the Garden Club, and is one of their representatives on the beautification committee. She is active in the Community Baptist Church.

Can't you imagine that the boys from this home, when traveling abroad, were good ambassadors for this country? How could they be otherwise? Don't you enjoy going into a house, hearing about the children's achievements, their lovingkindness to one another and seeing their pictures around? I do. But, I know that, behind, has been steadfast parental love, care and effort. It is never easy to raise a family, but what a reward to know how united they are both at home and away, in love and service! We offer you, good neighbors, thanks for all you have done for common good. May we all appreciate you more and the children carry on the tradition you have so well established.

Quotes of the Month

Mrs. A. C. Landon: "I had forgotten what a cute little place Aromas was until I attended a teacher's meeting there recently. The way the hills hug down in around the little valley makes it very picturesque indeed."

Christ Wilson: "The quicker we get the sewer the better. We have lots of frontage and we want to do something with it! Would like to build some houses there but can't without sewer and water. Aromas will stand still until we get them.

If there's anything I can do to further this cause, I'd be glad to do so."

Ed Anderson: "I think the January issue of the Booster was the best one yet. I liked all of those little articles of interest."

Mrs. Dodson: "Aromas MUST be a nice place to LIVE, but we've been so busy since we've been here we haven't had time to find out."

"In America one man is just as good as another —maybe even better."

Junior Garden Club Formed

Believing that the progress of Aromas will go forward on the feet of her young people, the Aromas Garden Club has organized two Junior Garden Clubs in the school. These are under the auspices of the California Garden Clubs, Inc.

With the whole hearted encouragement of the principal and teachers, the children are enthusiastically landscaping the school grounds.

The Aromas Garden Club is supplying red cannas for background, and variegated ivy for ground covers and is training the children to plant in masses, rather than hodge podge.

Violet leaves are being given to all of the children so that each can grow a plant for his school room.

Mrs. H. B. Pavey has very generously donated enough hybrid iris to edge all of the lawns.

A GREAT BIG "HATS OFF" TO THE AROMAS GARDEN CLUB AND THEIR JUNIORS!
